

あかしこども新聞

Theme for This Year

The Oldest in Japan

Akashi Planetarium

Did you know that a planetarium projects stars onto a dome-shaped ceiling?

The starry sky feels close enough to touch.

Wow, what a big light bulb!

Let's go check out the planetarium!

The 100th anniversary of the world's first planetarium

This year marks the 100th anniversary since the world's first planetarium was established in Germany. Young reporters are here to share the charm of Akashi's planetarium, which has been shining the longest in Japan.

Scan to learn more